CARON PROGRAM

Many classes were streamed online, and contact was maintained with other local organizations to help our community during these times of uncertainty.

We started from the basics, care packages, food and masks during the first phases of the pandemic, to kids activities and tutoring for the new stay-at-home learning system for children. We have continued to maintain contact with families in the area through online activities and drive-thru experiences, helping with testing and attending to the needs of our community.

During this pandemic we realized that we needed to stay together with the community during these times of uncertainty and that more than ever we needed to rely on each other.
